REVIEWS

‘This book provides everything educational professionals need to implement successful whole school e-safety strategies. It also provides up-to-the-minute information and advice including discussion on new technologies, social media and online gaming sites, SRE in the smartphone age, and recent school policy trends such as ‘Bring Your Own Device’ ... We need to take a fresh approach to this rapidly evolving concern and this book provides just that. Bursting with useful resources and clear explanations, it is a must have.’

–Heather Jeavons, DGfL Senior Education Development Manager, Dudley Grid for Learning.

‘As the perfect complement to Making Your Primary School E-safe, Adrienne Katz has once again cut straight to the heart of the matter. This timely book will quickly become an indispensable and topical resource for any teacher or family member eager to keep children secure in a cyberworld where it’s all too easy to feel several miles behind the children in our care.’

- Jonathan Charlesworth M.Ed. Author of That’s So Gay! Challenging Homophobic Bullying

‘This book provides a complete package for secondary schools to enable them to develop and embed a whole school approach to e-safety and cyberbullying, and deliver relevant and stimulating lessons. It is full of up to date information, practical guidance and great activities for staff and students - all from a writer who is incredibly well informed by years of experience, training staff and listening to children and young people on the subject matter.’

–Paul Rigglesford, Director, Anti-Bullying Works, UK

‘Adrienne has taken on the monumental task of bringing together all the strands of e-safety in a secondary setting in this book. The advice and resources she provides will help both staff and pupils in secondary schools to become responsible digital citizens and, importantly, to stay safe. In my work as anti-bullying coordinator, I am acutely aware of the need for this book and fully support the ideas that it promotes. I will certainly be recommending it to the schools I work with.’

–Lorna Naylor, Anti-bullying Coordinator, Children, Families and Cultural Services, Nottinghamshire County Council, UK
